I Don't Know

Olivia

I don't know about this...
This doesn't fit...ya know?
Let's get on with this tomorrow.
Alright, bye.

I'm comin' home, can't see you there
I look around, find some blonde hair
You said you're here, I can't find you
Now you're gone, please, mind you
You wanted love, and love I gave
I guess I won't take you into my grave
And when I die, you will die soon
You'll live until the next full moon
I don't want this, the life you want
And you're the person's dreams I haunt
Capture me into your soul
I hope you die in a black hole

You thought about it, but you decided not to
I wanted you, but you had someone else to
Hold you tight, be your lady
When you told me, I went so damn crazy

I don't know if anyone can replace you
With you gone, there's nothing I can do
No one else in the world is like you
He's not like you, no one's compared to

I look around, find you right there
I thought you did, I thought you cared
I didn't seem to find you here
Inside my heart, I was left in fear
When you die, I'll kick your ass
When you go, I'll go right past
I don't want to be part of you
I thought you wanted to be part of me, too
Guess you had someone else in your life
Wish you would, I wish you'd die
No one understands me, clear
I hear your voice, you're realy near

You thought about it, but you decided not to
I wanted you, but you had someone else to
Hold you tight, be your lady
When you told me, I went so damn crazy

I don't know if anyone can replace you
With you gone, there's nothing I can do
No one else in the world is like you
He's not like you, no one's compared to

Now, nothing seem right when I'm in my room
Everything's so strange, I'm near to my doom
I don't understand why you had thought
She was better, I had tried and fought
To get her away, kill her straight
But all was gone, I lost my fate

You won't think to bring me to your grave
I won't do the same, I had things you gave

I don't know if anyone can replace you
With you gone, there's nothing I can do
No one else in the world is like you
