I'm always at the place where your friends meet It's the long way home but I walk your street And when I trip and fall right at your feet It's not accidental

I make it feel like luck is in the air Every time you turn I'm standing there You look into the stars, our names are clear It's not accidental

And when you get a wrong number Don't hang up to soon Stop and wonder

You are the one that's meant for me I'm twisting fate to make believe It's all accidental This was always meant to be When you're in my arms then you will see It wasn't accidental

I know you like the kind of clothes I wear Think I threw them on without a care The style's from a book you read A magazine you left It's not coincidental

And even when you hear your favourite song You don't know but I put it on You bought the record yesterday
So I knew what to play
It's not coincidental

You are the one that's meant for me I'm twisting fate to make believe It's all accidental This was always meant to be And when your in my arms you will see It wasn't accidental

You are the one that's meant for me I'm twisting fate to make believe It's all accidental This was always meant to be And when your in my arms you will see It wasn't accidental

This all feels right time, right place Cos every time I see you face to face Our future calls Not saying U bend the truth Just doing my best to get to you Made you my destiny

You are the one that's meant for me I'm twisting fate to make believe It's all accidental

This was always meant to be And when your in my arms you will see It wasn't accidental

You are the one that's meant for me I'm twisting fate to make believe It's all accidental This was always meant to be And when your in my arms you will see It wasn't accidental
