

Kingdom of winter

Olympos Mons

Rising up from the eye of the storm
A dark power shatters the night

It won't stop for no mortal man
It's darkness destroying the light

On the horizon I see the northern star
I ask for a reason, why they came
But I know, we went too far

The kingdom of winter
Will rise once again
Knights in shiny armour
Will come and unite our land
The kingdom of winter
The one we must defend
From evil and destruction
Until the bitter end

Marching on through the wind and the rain
Never look back never turn

Don't close your eyes, don't fall asleep
Or there will be no return

Beyond the horizon I see just memories
If there is a reason tell me now,
Set me free I'm in agony

The kingdom of winter
Will rise once again
Knights in shiny armour
Will come and unite our land
The kingdom of winter
The one we must defend
From evil and destruction
Until the bitter end
