

Eternally this field remains Stanlow
No heart or head or mind
No season could erase

We set you down to care for us, Stanlow
A vision fading fast
A million hearts to one

So restrained, she turns away, Stanlow
I've seen her face in every day
The same routine along the way
Tonight in the rain alone

And then again it's been so long
Since one single promise kept
All to say to reason
We wanted a heart to say what we want to

A morning comes just as it left
The warmer feeling seldom owned
And tonight all I see alone
And as she turned we always knew
That her heart was never there
