

Chains or Delirium

Omen

Lost inside the corridors in
The center of my mind
The voices they keep calling me
To let them all reside
Is it morning, is it evening, is it dark or light?
The demons come to speak
To me in the middle of the night

Their decree can't you see insanity has come
Deliver me won't you please Chains of Delirium

Doses full of mind sedation calm the rage inside
The voice they keep calling me
To let them all reside
The man I used to be is gone
For he has all but died
Confusion is the only hope
That wills me to survive

All this screaming, never ceasing,
Turmoil in my head
All this taunting, endless haunting, pushing me past ... the edge
Thoughts full of delusion,
Constant in confusion,
Horror and illusion, where is the conclusion

Trapped inside the corridors in
The center of my mind
The voices they all live
With me in padded walls of white
Who i used to be is gone
For he has all but dies
Confusion is the only hope
That wills me to survive

Deliver me ...won't you please...
...Insanity ... has surcome...
Chains of Delirium
