

Fading Gray

One Fine Day

sign in sign out
take the reasons back tell me what it's all about just step in and step out there are a million different lovesongs

but they're all so far away
and it hurts so see you lying naked in this fading gray

turn inside out paint the reasons black every that really counts is breathing in and breathing out

breath in breath out so here is one more simple love song
