

Goodbye Reality

One Fine Day

when your daily job is living your nightmares when you work your ass off and no one even cares i know a place to go when you work your ass off and no one even no one even cares

one, two, three, four

say good-bye to reality
forget about pain and all of your sorrow welcome my friend insanity take my hand we go over the rainbow some people do it and others want it and everybody needs it a little hideaway when heaven turns into hell in disguise when all your future plans are not your size when your daily job is living your nightmares and if you follow me than you will see

forget about pain and all of your sorrow
some people do it and others want it

forget about pain and all of your sorrow
