A Lifetime Burning

One Less Reason

There's something wrong in her world today She screams aloud but just won't say Never was her strongest point to, hurry up a wait

Now it's all been said and done A preacher's daughter, a devil's son Her favorite color, a day alone No smile on her face

And you...
Were wrong
And you...
Were wrong

'Cause I don't believe I failed you
Are your lies still coming true?
Do you still think the better days are gone?
'Cause after all the things we've been through
Years so hard to lose
Give me a life of half love, half hope, half true
Or a lifetime burning with you

And all those things he'd said he'd got Seemed so big but don't mean much Spends his days just praying "God oh, feeling in this way"

No one saw the broken heart Or even knew the day it started No one thought he was good enough Except for you...

I don't believe I failed you
Are your lies still coming true?
Do you still think the better days are gone?
'Cause after all the things we've been through
Years so hard to lose
Give me a life of half love, half hope, half true
Or a lifetime burning...yea

You're gonna miss those things you're giving away You need to hold out, you're gonna break down You need to find your way back to the start Who cares what they say? It's still your heart Your heart...

Something wrong in her world today
The one she loves, she threw away
Still see it on her face, when she's got a smile to fake
And all those things he said he'd got
He cashed them in and it just wasn't enough
To buy back a star to replace the one he loved

And you... Were wrong

And I...
Was wrong

'Cause I don't believe I failed you
Are your lies still coming true?
Do you still think the better days are gone?
'Cause after all the things we've been through
Years so hard to lose
Give me a life of half love, half hope, half true
'Cause I'll take a life of half love, half hope, half true
Or a lifetime burning...