

14 Years

One Minute Silence

And I will walk with you hand and hand in pride
Hand and hand to where the demons lie
I don't want to hide
Fourteen steps two doors
But to wake some dogs we must first make some noise
I don't want to hide

Now I see a king and not a gravestone
I still see you there in a red room
The walls didn't hide the roars
And still I still and still I still
And I will walk this land with my head held high

All roads lead to home, home is where is where I'll die
I don't want to hide
I don't want to hide
Now I see a king and not a gravestone
Fourteen steps two doors
The walls didn't hide the roars
And still I still and still I still
I still see you there in a red room

Fourteen years, fourteen years
Fourteen fucking years Now look at me look at me
