Keepin' up appearances
Keepin' up with the Jones'
Fooling my selfish heart
Going through the 'motions

But I'm fooling myself
I'm fooling myself

'Cause you say, you love me And then you do it again, you do it again And you say your sorrys And then you do it again, you do it again

Everybody thinks you're well Everybody thinks I'm ill Watching me fall apart Falling under your spell

But you're fooling yourself You're fooling yourself

'Cause you say, you love me
And then you do it again, you do it again
And you say your sorrys
And then you do it again, you do it again
And again and again and again

But you're fooling yourself You're fooling yourself

'Cause you say, you love me And then you do it again, you do it again And you say your sorrys And then you do it again, you do it again

You say you love me
And then you do it again, you do it again
And you say your sorrys
And then you do it again, you do it again
And again and again and again
