

Keeping Me Away

One-Way Mirror

Keeping me away from elevation! Upset
Keeping me away from elevation! Upset

Keeping me away from elevation!
For something I don't wanna ring the bell for
Won't you let me stand at the top
You wanna keep me upset, yeah!

I wake up this morning like another day
Scarring pictures in my head as long as I go this way
Isolating me into a fake death
Isolating me into a fake death

People asking me about this place
They've never been before
The implications
Of my dark visions
Have never been told

Why do we always try to change our damn personality?
This solution always contributes
To fking ease the pain

Keeping me away from elevation
For something I don't wanna ring the bell for
Won't you let me stand at the top
You wanna keep me upset

Keeping me away
Keeping me, from elevation, away
Away, keeping me away
Keeping me, from elevation, away
Away, Yeah! Why?

I'm forced to see your face every fking day
Even going blind would not be the better way
I feel like becoming a time bomb
I feel like puking all the time
I'm going down

Why do we always try to change our damn motherfking fate?
There's no solution as long as we don't take a look in the mirror

People asking me about this place
They've never been before
The implications
Of my dark visions
Have never been told

Keeping me away
Keeping me, from elevation, away
Keeping me away
Keeping me, from elevation, away

I woke up this morning like another day
Scary pictures in my head as long as I go this way
Isolating me into a fake death

Isolating me into this fake death! Why?

Keeping me away
Keeping me, from elevation, away
Keeping me away
Keeping me, from elevation, away

Told. It has never been told. Told.
I never told
I never told anybody
