

Underground

OneSideZero

see mother will hold the children from all the world's pain father still looks deep with eyes of hate folding our arms
when the happiness falls apart from all was unknown until you create the game
so it's time
clear our minds
underground
shut your eyes
follow the gun
quench the thirst for love that you have kept from only son that has held you up so high feel like the road has been pushed away and back again when mother will you protect all of us somehow
so it's time
underground
shut your eyes
