

Hank Crane

Only Living Witness

For how long, here and gone
Why run?
Just come home
Time has come
Needed one
I run
For how long?
His words grew thin and hollow
They drowned in tears so shallow
I felt for sure that they would break my silence