Open Hand

6-26

what's inside far away, separation I don't know now looking back far away falling down inside I'm so helpless I want you under I want you on my side you said to me "I want you on my side" I knew just what to say I did it all for you for you what's inside far away, separation I don't know now looking back far away falling down inside I'm so helpless you are the one why am I not the only one decide what you want from my friends someone I know why decide to stay right now this time someone I know why then you walk away I know what it's like watch me fall away from you then you walk away so very far from you in a softer way I know it's like I want you when on my side I know what it's like I know it's like I want you where by my side to save me from myself again far from you stay down