Life As Is

Open Hand

For now I'll just push my feelings aside Not to worry it'll be alright Now I'll just rest from the world that it here And what it has for me

For now I'll just push my feelings aside Not to worry it'll be alright Now I'll just rest from the world that it here And what it has for me

I know what you want I know what you need But I can't give it I can't give it

Yea, you walked away Yea, now turn and look at me That's okay I said it I'll say it again You want it right now Its alright I know everything's okay While you're here with me

Yes I know it So answer me right now I'm so sorry I'm so sorry

We'll find our own way out So take my hand Decide our own way Just you and me now

Yes I know it, right now that's okay I said it I'll say it again You want it right now Its alright I know everything's okay While you're here with me

Falling inside this time Falling inside You want it right now Don't walk away I'm here today

Falling inside this time Falling inside You want it right now Don't walk away But I'm here today

I know what you want I know what you need But I can't give it I can't give it

Yeah, you walked away

Yeah, now turn and look at me That's okay I said it I'll say it again You want it right now Its alright I know everything's okay While you're here with me