

Eyes Behind the Wall

Orchid

Well you talk to me in circles as you're hanging from your strings
So blinded by the poison of your lies
Slide in through the back door
They led you by the hand
We never seemed to see it in your eyes

And all the love you've lost, the dreams you cost a thousand lives
Won't even start to slow our fall, not this time
And all the blood we spill, our sons who've died ten thousand times
Won't see the eyes behind the wall
Don't wanna see the eyes behind the wall

Told you from the first time you even tried to crawl
That you were born to save us from ourselves
White sheets and red crosses
Broken skulls and bones
They chose you to deliver us from Hell

And all the love you've lost, the dreams you cost a thousand lives
Won't even start to slow our fall, not this time
And all the blood we spill, our sons who've died ten thousand times
Won't see the eyes behind the wall
Don't wanna see the eyes behind the wall

Please Mr. Nightmare
Won't you take it all away?
