

False believer, true deceiver
She's the fever stealing the life from you

False believer, true deceiver
She's the fever stealing the life from you

Hail to the slave, to the fool who obeys the order
Will he stand all the world's misery?
King of the world, yet unheard, still be frightened waiting
Like a dwarf for the day he'll be free

False believer, true deceiver
She's the fever stealing the life from you

False believer, true deceiver
She's the fever stealing the life from you

Hail to the grave, to your last dark eternal TV
Lull the ground between boats, nore [?] and birds
Down takes of life, in her eyes are eternities
Will come hold you at the end of the world

False believer, true deceiver
She's the fever stealing the life from you

False believer, true deceiver
She's the fever stealing the life from you
