

The Ice Kings

Orden Ogan

Roam a world all grey in grey
Snow is falling day by day
And regardless what they say
I think it's not all all right

Wandering the streets at night
Wondering the things go right
A million stars fade out of sight
I think it's not all right

And we all serve the ice kings
Cause we all love believing
And we don't care no more
In ice whe sall serve
Now and forevermore

Lost people grey in grey
One is falling every day
And regardless what they say
I think it's not all right

Counting bodies late at night
Wondering if things go right
A million lifes fade out of sight
And I think it's not all right

And we all serve the ice kings
Cause we all love believing
And we don't care no more
In ice whe sall serve
Now and forevermore