Chemicals keep me under control Chemicals keep me under control Chemicals keep me under control Chemicals keep me under control

Sleeping at the wheel I can't feel my face Maybe it's better this way My stomach's twisted, all tied up in knots And I'm feeling like I don't want this Killing time as the clock goes Tick tock, tick tock They'll never keep you away from me I know where you'll be tomorrow What difference does it make to you? I don't care ain't got the time Winning the race for another line It's written in my mind Just to get it all away from me Away from me 'Cause I think I'm falling

'Cause I think I'm falling Falling out of touch with life And I'm thinking it's all just a big mistake I think I'm falling Falling, out of touch with life So what have I been telling myself?

Must be the rage deep down inside of me Eating me away Eating me away Feelings are so vague, so wrong So what have I been telling myself?

So I've been chosen To be the victim of Your misery That's right I'm frozen Chemicals keep me under control So cold from all the ice and amphetamines That I just might make you think

That Jesus was your middle name As though it seems to be an act of God But for now go ahead and believe what You want to believe 'Cause I think I'm falling

'Cause I think I'm falling Falling out of touch with life And I'm thinking it's all just a big mistake I think I'm falling Falling out of touch with life So what have I been telling myself

Must be the rage deep down inside of me

Eating me away Eating me away Feelings are so vague So wrong So what have I been telling myself? Must be the rage deep down inside of me Eating away Eating me away Feelings are so vague So what have I been telling myself? Myself [repeat x8] You know what kills me? Chemicals keep me under control [repeat x15] Why is everybody hooked on When you feel so desperate you got your grip on me I take away all the trust and all the sympathy Why is everybody hooked on everybody else I'll guess I'll never understand it Come and fill your head with lies No I can't explain Why everyone seems so vague Must be the rage deep down inside of me Eating me away Eating me away Feelings are so vague So what have I been telling myself? Feelings are so vague So what have I been telling myself? Must be the rage deep down inside of me Eating away Eating me away Feelings are so vague So what have I been telling myself? Deep Inside it's eating me away Feelings are so vague Feelings are so vague
