He's Gone

Orianthi

I tried to forget the words that he told me yesterday But nothing makes it easier or takes my pain away And it hit me so hard like I fell down on my back

I don't understand his reasons
I trap and I can't so I sing a love song
Before he left me, announcing the blues, not he's gone
Baby, why didn't you tell me?

'Cause we've been going out for so long So I can't believe it, out of all these lies We're driving the chance, made other plans Maybe I shouldn't be wasting my time

I try not to think about the way things could have been He knew how much I loved him, he was my everything And it hurts me inside when he treats me this way

I don't understand his reasons
I trap and I can't so I sing a love song
Before he left me, announcing the blues not he's gone
Baby, why didn't you tell me?

'Cause we've been going out for so long So I can't believe it, out of all these lies We're driving the chance, made other plans Maybe I shouldn't be wasting my time

And don't have no common sense he made But now I can't go back there again Well, now I can't stay this way forever I can't hold on any longer yeah, yeah

I trap and I can't so I sing a love song
Before he left me, announcing the blues, now he's gone
Baby, why didn't you tell me?

'Cause we've been going out for so long So I can't believe it, out of all these lies We're driving the chance, made other plans Maybe I shouldn't be wasting my time
