Colonized in your cells, sickness, constant shifting
Too late to be afraid, organs, liquefying
Blood spews from every hole, in your, lifeless body
Masses fall from disease, plaguing, every human, still contagio us.

Hemorrhagic virus which is no longer contained Rate of death grows faster, no one is immune Thousands perish daily, dead blood flowing Panicked sheep all screaming, rampage of fleeing Fever racks your body, skin is burning Human beings slowly die One path to death, this outbreak Many ways we all can die Silent killers' drawing flies.

Aftermath, final path, Aftermath, final path.

Mass extinction calling
Human race is falling
Corpses now dissolving
World is rendered silent
No more plagues of violence
Mother Earth defiant.

Now life exists, without humans
New life unfolds, unimpeded
See new days, Earth will flourish
Worlds bane dead, free of cancer
Pollution, will diminish
Our plague ends, we won't return
The sixth wave, of extinction
Self destruct, we killed ourselves
Horizon, sights still unseen.
Aftermath,
The Aftermath of our extinction.