

I Am Spartacus

Otherwise

Don't wake me up just to break me down!
Some things are never meant to be, some things are bound by scars, create a monster just to find out who we are
Is it destiny to walk a lonely road, I wonder in we'll ever really know
Don't wake me up just to break me down, the vein is cut, there's no stopping now,
You can't stop us now!
And even though you think about the taste of lead, just let it go,
the hammer drops & now you're dead
Your history is chronicled in lines of red, a mystery, just solve the puzzle in your head!
Is it destiny to walk a lonely road, I don't think we'll ever really know
Don't wake me up just to break me down, the vein is cut, there's no stopping now,
The life we give to live the life we dream about,
Don't wake me up just to break me down, you can't break me down!
Life is (say it)
What you (to me now)
Make it (scream it)
I won't lie down,
We won't lie down!
Don't wake me up just to break me down, the vein is cut, there's no stopping now,
The life we give to live the life we dream about,
Don't wake me up just to break me down, you can't break us down!
