Thinking over days gone by Thinking of the past and I wonder why Why did all the love we have just die, Waving all the memories goodbye now thought this love of ours would stay Never saw the day you might walk away, never want to see me Look me in the eye and say you're leaving This is wrong wrong, everything we had is gone Nothing left to carry on, tell me why this game is over So goodbye this game is over Can I make you change your mind Think of all the memories we'll leave behind Want you to be here with me forgive Everything I've done and let me live now, nothing more that I c an do Telling me we're through, can't believe it's true We should be together, Now you're gonna leave me for another This is wrong wrong, everything we had is gone Nothing left to carry on, tell me why this game is over So goodbye this game is over Baby tell me why tell me why, baby tell me why tell me why Back in time before I met you thought I'd never find the one Then you came and took control, made your heart my only goal Now I am trying to forget you, I can see that you are gone And I'll never make it home, you possess my very soul You possess my very soul Tell me why this game is over, so goodbye this game is over Baby tell me why tell me why, baby tell me why tell me why This is wrong wrong, everything we had is gone Nothing left to carry on, tell me why this game is over So goodbye this game is over
