In 1949 George Orwell portrays a chilling world in which computers are used by large bureaucracies to monitor and enslave the population in hi s book 1984.

The year is 1976.

Kurzweil Computer Products introduces the Kurzweil Reading Mach ine.

The first printed speech reading machine for the blind.

In 1997, Deep Blue beats

Gary Kasparov, the world chess champion, in a regulation tourna ment.