

White Flags

Our Lady Peace

She says it's cold
And she says the sky's about to fall
How do you know?
Well she says the writing's on the wall

Everything I made, I somehow broke
Every word I say, I think I stole
I can't explain
But I won't give up the ghost

She looks like an angel
Talks like it's war
And this whole world is gone crazy
God's gone a little lazy

We're raising our white flags and holding our breath
But no retreat and no surrendering

She says it's late
And come on, we're headed for the sun
I said now wait
Oh this battle's just begun

Every line I've crossed has come undone
Everything I know is somehow wrong
I can't escape
And there's nowhere left to run

She looks like an angel
Talks like it's war
And this whole world is gone crazy
God's gone a little lazy

We're raising our white flags and holding our breath
But no retreat and no surrendering

I'll go that far with you, to war with you ??
I'll go that far with you ??
I'd break down these walls for you

Well this whole world is gone crazy
God's gone a little lazy

We're raising our white flags and holding our breath
Oh we're trading our black hearts for angels instead
But no retreat and no surrendering
