

A World Divided

Our Last Night

It's taught to be afraid of me
So you don't understand
I'm hanging on the edge
But you won't reach for my hand
If we came face to face
You would see no difference
Between you and me (We are the same!)
But we let the hate radiate
Out of us like a sun
Watch it burn through our veins

Divided by the colors
Split by our beliefs
Forced against each other
Nothing's as it seems
But between white walls
We could forget it all
The fear would fade
We could start to change
A world divided and afraid
(A world divided and afraid!)

The rumors and lies
Pull us apart
Leaving us on separate sides
I just play like a work of art
These lies are here
To keep us in the dark

Divided by the colors
Split by our beliefs
Forced against each other
Nothing's as it seems
But between white walls
We could forget it all
The fear would fade
We could start to change
A world divided and afraid

We need to break the cycle of hate
We need to break the cycle of hate

Divided by the colors
Split by our beliefs
Forced against each other
Nothing's as it seems
But between white walls
We could forget it all
The fear would fade
We could start to change
A world divided and afraid
(A world divided and afraid!)