

The Air I Breathe

Our Last Night

Don't let me forget
Where I started
Cuz I keep losing my sight
I'm blinded by the light

My dreams are in front of me
And everything I've worked for is standing in my door

I know I may be the first to forget
But I appreciate the air I breathe
I know that I may be the first to forget
But I appreciate the air I breathe

We choke when we focus on negativity
When did this turn into something we took for granted
This road wont take us home
This road wont take us home to the place we thought we know

I know I may be the first to forget
But I appreciate the air I breathe
I know that I may be the first to forget
But I appreciate the air I breathe

Take a breathe
Take your time
My dreams are in front of me
And everything I've worked for is standing in my door
Keep me alive
The faces leading north
Could be the faces keep us alive

I know I may be the first to forget
But I appreciate the air I breathe
I know that I may be the first to forget
But I appreciate the air I breathe
