

The Devil Inside You

Our Last Night

You're one of them, a monster at heart.
Attention gives them what they need to heal these wounds.

Their lungs, filled with guilt,
Hold up the walls they built.
(2x)

Attention gives them what they need to heal these wounds.

You're just a symphony made up of violins,
That don't make a sound.
You lived a lie, (2x)
And came out with nothing more
Than the life, (2x)
You had before.

They're just machines that no one can trust,
Always cheating the system that they need.
Oh, I trusted you because I trusted myself.

You're just a symphony made up of violins,
That don't make a sound.
You lived a lie, (2x)
And came out with nothing more
Than the life, (2x)
You had before.

You're one of them, a monster at heart.

Now I'm left with nothing but a wasted past.

There is a devil inside you. (2x)
You know him all too well.

You're just a symphony made up of violins,
That don't make a sound.
You lived a lie, (2x)
And came out with nothing more
Than the life you had before.

Take your lies to the grave you dug for yourself. (2x)
