

It came as no surprise
Another month gone in the books
I swear without you around, it's restlessness overdose
My welcome overstayed, maybe I can't catch a hint
Success, where are you now? Think I need another hit
A lil bit of problems, baby I'm in it
Stopped for a second and then took a minute
The joke's on me but who we kidding?
Ain't nothing funny 'bout no money when you living like me
Waiting in vein, IV
Caught in the web and it ain't an IP
Address my problems, feeling better
Obstacles but I won't let up

And every time I swear I was about to give up on you
And now I believe again
Everyday, somehow, something keeps getting in my way
But that's ok 'cause I keep going on and on and on
Everyday, somehow, something keeps getting in my way
But that's ok 'cause I keep going on and on and on

Some try to shoot ya down, their aim off the mark
Scared of being themselves, afraid of what's in they heart
Been on the scene, played the role, say the lines
Appreciate the honesty, gave my soul, gave my time
For you, I'd do anything, consider it done and end the dream
From the day we met, cold sweat, hot flashes
After attention from the masses

Everyday, somehow, something keeps getting in my way
But that's ok 'cause I keep going on and on and on
Everyday, somehow, something keeps getting in my way
But that's ok 'cause I keep going on and on and on
