

Don't Say Anything

Outasight

Don't say one word, it's not your concern
Don't say anything, you may think your right,
Don't say anything, you may think your right

As you said, good morning Mr Andrew
Huh, why seem so stressed?
Is it cus the world would eat you up and spit you out
Make you feel like one of the rest
Clear me throat, clear me head
But I need to clear one of these cheques
Because the last one I got was from the collect
Saying I need to clear up some of these debts

Threat!

And when I got out on the town
I gotta get pass people, I don't like!
Get life, take a hike, fly a kite, goodbyeee
Even when the sun ain't beaming when the morning or the evening my future is still bright
But it's a fight tonight, tonight, don't say anything that will make it seem
, seem alright

Don't say one word, it's not your concern
Don't say anything, you may think your right,
Don't say anything, you may think your right

Feeling low, my life is in limbo
Chances knocked out like I was fighting with Kimbo
Trying to get out, but with her knowing what I'm into
We should work out, like I was holding some mentos!

Me prom face on, middle late night she didn't put her face on Pull out the bottle take some, take some Running away, but getting chased on, by Jason
Yow, no matter how fast I run, run, run
She catch up to me
Yow, sometimes I'm thinking I'm having fun, fun,
But not really, I stop dealin'
And think about the differences between feelin'
And being regular, comparin'
To me the synonyms, definitions are similar
Never getting the point n' giving up n' getting up, c'mon

Don't say one word, it's not your concern
Don't say anything, you may think your right,
Don't say anything, you may think your right
Don't say one word, it's not your concern
Don't say one word, it's not your concern
Don't say one word, it's not your concern
Don't say one word, it's not your concern
Don't say one word, it's not your concern

Don't say anything, you may think your right,
Don't say anything, no noo noooo
