

Never Say Never

Outasight

Never say never if ya ever felt the way I felt
The way I felt, never say never
You might feel a better

I used to worry about things that I couldn't control
Change the channel 'cause I don't feel watching no more
I used to get uptight about the littlest things
Untie the knots and loosen the strings
Welcome to the life I lead
I care about the money, don't confuse it with greed
And never see me running from my fears that been coming
From all angles, getting hot 90 degrees, is it the right one?
Hand on my heart, no star spangled
Paying dues is painful and I'm getting close
No GPS, nowhere to go

Never say never if ya ever felt the way I felt
The way I felt, never say never
You might feel a better
Never say never if ya ever felt the way I felt
The way I felt, never say never
You might feel a better

Feeling better, new shirt, new sweater
Brand name put together yeah, I clean up nice
My advice not to add another vice
Can ya dig that? She writes on the last text of the night
And I can barely see that
Double vision living, I been doing it
And given myself to temptation
My girl has been patiently waiting for me to shape up
Yeah, circle gets the square, no squares in ya circle don't fit
This year is your year, mark it down on ya calendar
And if they testing character, I'm a pass it
Montana to Rice, two hands up
Welcome to the good life
Like Kanye performing to the Las Vegas lights
Welcome to the good life, welcome to the good life

I used to worry about things that I couldn't control
Change the channel 'cause I don't feel watching no more
I used to get uptight about the littlest things
Untie the knots and loosen the strings
