

My Other Car Is A Time Machine

Outline in Color

My flesh drips off the bone
I sealed this sin with a kiss, I cant believe
What I have shown, a lack of faith
A hindrance of
I am a wraith
I am monstrosity
My soul screams violence
For my cries fall upon deaf ears

Shall I scream repentance
Shall I bleed with all these tears
These actions my life produced
Have not been through dignity
Living in sin for
It has seduced me
Kissing the devil

Ever so gracefully
Your story entices all,
Still reigns true.

This ribcage opens up and my heart begins to fall
You catch it like a leaf inside your palm

In between the creases and lines
And for once I feel a calm
From a stone to a feather weight
Because this heart of mine
The weight
Of my past
Crumbles this sin on my heart
Vanquished, my love restored

Ever so gracefully
Your story entices all,
Still reigns true.

My flesh drips off the bone
I sealed this sin with a kiss, I cant believe
What I have shown, a lack of faith
A hindrance of
I am a wraith
I am monstrosity
My soul screams violence
For my cries fall upon deaf ears

Shedding my skin to reveal a new future
