

Bringing The World Back Home

OV7

Bringing the world back, bringing the world back,
Bringing the world back home
Ever find you're walking down a one way road
With nowhere to turn, all your bridges are burned
And from the ashes you just gotta rise up
Bring the world, just bring the world
And just remember when the night seems so long
The darkest hour is just before dawn

Refren:

If you gonna dream, you won't dream alone Cause we're in this together whether we stand or fall
Make it through the storm, when we'll overcome
And I know that I won't dream on my own
Cause we're bringing the world back home
You'd better be ready when destiny calls
You're a long way from home from where you belong
Such a long, cold journey destination unknown
But you gotta be strong yeah, you gotta be strong
And just remember when your last hope has gone,
The darkest hour is just before dawn

Refren

Bringing the world back home, bringing the world

back, bringing the world back home (2x)

And just remember when your last hope has gone,
The darkest hour is just before dawn

Refren

Bringing the world back home, bringing the world
back, bringing the world back home
