

We're two kids on the streets tonight, I think that we will be alright.

Just stay near.

The night sky is my only friend then I am alone again.

The day is here.

When I walked you home you turned and said goodbye I wanted you to know.

Is that the reason why?

(Take me home tonight, I don't want to let you go until you see the light)