

Fear His Name

Overkill

On judgment day the moon lights the way
And those with open eyes will see...
Hail the avenger, midnight defender
The end will never be
You look to the light, dawn of a new day
Hail the avenger, he who lights the way

Away with your fear, I've cried all my tears
Delivered from the night
Hail the avenger laughing at danger
Shed blood, bring life
If you live by the sword you die by the sword
All hail! the avenger, accept our new lord

The defeated lay, lifeless in the pit
His face reflects the horror of his victims in tenfold
A death of deaths, all evil fear his name
Struck down by a man
His severed limbs ooze oceans of our blood
Man stands, oh, knee deep within...
Paused to scream, this is not a sin
I have done your will, I've delivered
From this day forth known as the avenger...

Guarding the weak and those who seek
Asylum from a world of wrong...
Hail the avenger, midnight defender
Silent, bold and strong
You echo our cry, so ends war
All hail the avenger
Victory hour, oh, victory ours
Our vengeance recall, those starting to fall
Oh, victory hour!
