What I'm Missin'

Overkill

In a wiped-out section of your sanity somewhere next to mine
There's a line between what is and what should be, a line you'll never find
It takes me far away from me, keeps me where I've been
In the blackout, rage-filled, kill the sanity, no I never win
Take me far away from me, safe within your heart
Take me where I cannot fall apart
Keep me close, don't let me go, teach me what I need to know
Take the time and show me once again what I'm missin'
There's a little somethin' eats away at me deep inside my soul
Behind the wall of pure insanity where my dark unfolds
It takes me far away from me to a darker place
In the chaos I kill sanity, it's me I cannot face
Take me far away from me, safe within your heart
Take me where I cannot fall apart
Keep me close, don't let me go, teach me what I need to know
Take the time and show me once again, what I'm missin'
Wake, let the sleeping lie
Let 'em drop, let 'em lay, just let 'em die
Fall to a brand-new high
Where I drop, where I lay, where my inner dies
Take what I need inside
For the long-haul vision, for the long hard ride
Wall that I hit head on
It's the cost, it's the payment, it's gone, gone, gone, gone, gone
Wake, let the sleeping lie
Fall, just let em' die
Wall, it's gone, gone, gone, gone, gone, gone, gone
Far, far, far away from me, safe within your heart
Keep me close, don't let me go, teach me what I need to know
Take the time and show me once again, what I'm missin', yeah
What I'm missin', yeah
