

We Were Never Alone

Ozark Henry

We have patience, loads
With every new delivery
We've quartered the moor
But the hare has disappeared, we know

But if the sea will not part well what do we know
We were never alone

When it rains, it pours
It's hard to sum what's worthwhile here
We reap what we sow
This crusade is all we really know

But if the sea will not part well what do we know
We were never alone

We have patience, loads
With every new delivery
Not a word from home
We move flared by al we heard and saw

But if the sea will not part well what do we know
We were never alone
