

The Whole World's Falling Down

Ozzy Osbourne

I leave my son the legacy of dangers
The tragedy of synthesizing rhymes
The genocide that comes from total strangers
Apocalyptic dreams to kill mankind

I see the mystery unwind, my spirits telling me
The sky is dying and the whole worlds falling down
Don't buy your fate from media messiahs
God gave you breath, don't blow it all away

I see the misery unwind
You must be stupid or be blind
My spirits telling me

The sky is crying, burning holes into the ground
The sky is dying, and the whole worlds falling down

What did you see or don't you know
You only reap the seeds you sew
Oh no

I see the misery unwind
You must be stupid or be blind
My spirits telling me

The sky is crying, burning holes into the ground
Messiah's coming, but will he hang around
'Cause the sky is dying
And the whole worlds falling down, right

The sky is dying, falling to the ground
The sky is dying, falling to the ground
The sky is dying, falling to the ground
The sky is dying, falling to the ground
