

Thinking About Forever

P.o.d.

Time goes by,
And God knows I try,
To carry on with life,
Decide not to hide the feelings inside,
Even though they hurt sometimes,
I still forget to remember you,
It's easy too,
Lock away these pains don't wanna relive it through,
But I stand strong,
You taught me how to move on in this world,
I married my sweetheart,
Even got a little baby girl,
I wish you could see her,
I swear she looks just like you,
If you can hear me,
Show me a sign,
Please send a butterfly or two.

I'm thinking about forever, missing you,
I know you're so much better, we made it through.

Now I know what it means to live with someone else,
To give up yourself,
Things that change their times you caught it strange,
Your love remains the same,
Do I make you proud?
Mama can't you see me now?
Whatever's good at me,
It's because you showed me how,
To take, love by the hand,
As so now I can,
Share you with my baby so that she can understand.

I'm thinking about fore ver, missing you,
I'm tripping on whatever, hearing you.
And finish the music with this.....
