

Falling

Paatos

The moon has lost it's face
The air I breathe taste of shade
The sun seems grey today
Like the dying gaze of blame

Falling, the universe is weeping
Teardrops of regret

The trees have turned to ash
So many years of neglect
The sea is full of rage
A place we swore to protect

Falling, the universe is weeping
Teardrops of regret
Falling, the universe is weeping
Teardrops of regret

Alone, now we're on our own
A monument for the fool
We wait for a miracle
But we're all to blind and cruel

Falling, the universe is weeping
Teardrops of regret
Falling, the universe is weeping
Teardrops of regret

Falling, the universe is weeping
Teardrops of regret
Teardrops of regret
