

Shame

Paatos

The world was trembling under one psycho president
Yet there was no one sure of what he really meant
He lined up all the dissidents, said "paradise will come"
All nations mutilated, and slaughtered one by one...

Shame! Shame! Shame!

No one left to follow orders
He's expanding his borders by wasting everyone
There is no love in what you've done
There's no humanity
Your way of chasing demons is pure insanity
You line up all the dissidents, say "paradise will come"
Now all nations are mutilated and slaughtered one by one...

Shame! Shame! Shame!

You're expanding your borders by wasting everyone

There's no one left to hold your hand
No one left to hug you
No one left to make you smile
No one left to kiss you
No one left to watch you tie the rope around your stiff neck
No one left to hold your hand, no one left to watch you die...
