

When Love Is At Your Door

Pablo Cruise

Yeah, you say you need me,
But it's not like before
Love drags its feet
As it slams the door
Night finds its reasons
For falling into bed
It teases crazy fools
who beg to be misled

Well, what about you
Starving for affection all of the time?
And what about me
Feeding you the love I wish was mine?

When love is at your door
Open up and let it in
When love comes back for more
Open up again and let it win

Understanding what we need
Is driving us insane
But ain't love worth the lessons
We learn from the pain
Selfish dispositions'
Are playin' us both for fools
No one ever wins
Fighting cool with cool
Well, think about me
I have waded through your craziness
I think about you
Jumping in to save me with no regrets

When love is at your door
Open up and let it in
When love comes back for more
Open up again and let it win

Are you lonely?
Could you go for more
Of the loving
That we had before?
Hang up the telephone
Cause I'm coming home
Its worth a try
To find out if we're right