

My Sharona

Paddy and the Rats

At night a thunder's rising
Huge like it never was before
Then our ship is riding
Let's pray for all the accursed souls

Where is my sweet lil' liar?
When it's all breaking down and sink
Losing her feels too dire
I realized she disappeared

Ooh, my Sharona,
Ooh, my Sharona's gone

You cried a river when I had to go
Burned down the house to the ground in the town's barrio
I had to take you and come along the way
You pushed me to hell and I know it's where I don't wanna stay
And I still don't know what else to say
Just freak out and see the game you play

It was a goddam night when
I took my tiny cabin boy
Smuggling you in disguise and
I feared she'd be all sailors' toy
Hoped it would last forever
But I saw every single time
She was so nice and tender
Loved everyone like I was blind
