

Dimensions of Fire

Pagan's Mind

Sleep, my dearest beauty
The time's for you been
Lead behind the wall
Constructing madness
That lies beyond this world
In this chalice dream I have
Keep haunting me again
When in the moonlight your empty shell lies
Baptized in the fire

One day we'll unite
In dimensions higher

Mournful misty morning
When absence warned the essence of your mind
And fading slowly, crystal shining eyes
In the misty moors in rain
I search your ghost again
For in the wind there your lonely soul lies
In spiritual fire

One day we'll unite
In dimensions higher

Leave this world of mortal chains
Free from captive shell I rise

In my dreams behind
My conscious mind
Through the gates of time
I search again...
... A thorn that scorns within
In dimensions higher

Haunted in my sleep
By darkened force - the force
Forced up from my rest
To a magic quest
The pain that slowly goes away
Somewhere the darkened spirits arise
Waiting someone to cry
The force chants me there all the time...
... In spiritual fire

One day we'll unite
In dimensions higher

Leave this world of mortal chains
Free from captive shell I rise

In my dreams behind
My conscious mind
Through the gates of time
I search again...

In search for a lost soul
Dimension of this mystery
Astral projection
Embraced by eternal flames

"Erif laurete eht yojne"

Leave this world of mortal chains

In my dreams behind
My conscious mind
I search again...
