I've got a blue eyed sun He burns the same for everyone I had a new best friend He went and let me down again I've got a green green grass It grows so tall and grows so fast You've got a crooked tooth He loves you straighter than I do When I see my blue I still think of you I've got a black out name But hand me down I have no say A hat and rabbit magic show Magic hand won't let me go When I shape my trail You'll be the first to know And when you wag your tail up at the blue eyed sun I see angels quickly picking up their guns How could the sky be blue for everyone at once I've got a blackout name it can't be the one you want
