

Shed My Skin

Palisades

I wanna peel apart a piece of my eyelids
Take my past and throw it away
I need to stop repeating the process
It's always been my biggest mistake

Death to me, reborn today
Rip away whatever made me weak

Shed my skin right off my bones
Replace all I've ever known
Separate my fate on my own
Separate my fate on my own
Rip myself up inch by inch
Repairing it stitch by stitch
Separate my fate on my own
Separate my fate on my own

I like the sound of the cartilage cracking
'Cause every noise is another step
And all the scars that are scattered on me
Will fade away as I leave my flesh

Death to me, reborn today
Rip away whatever made me weak

Shed my skin right off my bones
Replace all I've ever known
Separate my fate on my own
Separate my fate on my own
Rip myself up inch by inch
Repairing it stitch by stitch
Separate my fate on my own
Separate my fate on my own

Surviving to make a change
Like a snake that breaks a cage
There was poison in my veins
I chose to throw it away
It was more than I could take
There was poison in my veins

Shed my skin right off my bones
Replace all I've ever known
Separate my fate on my own
Separate my fate on my own
