

Call To Arms

Pallas

A call to arms
But no one there to answer
Silence falls
Drowning the echoes of yesterday's wrongs
All of your people standing around
Waiting for someone to show you the way
There's nobody there
There's only yourself
So get up and fight

A siren song
But no one left to listen
The time has gone
For meaningless slogans and pitiful lies

All of your people standing around
Waiting for someone to show you the way
There's nobody there
There's only yourself
So come on get up and fight
Won't you get up and fight

A fateful choice
The quest for self-expression
A single voice
Singing out strong in a bid to be heard

All of your people standing around
Waiting for someone to show you the way
There's nobody there
There's only yourself
So come on, get up and fight
Won't you get up and fight

There's no need for anger
No need for fear
The worst is behind you
You go straight ahead from here

All of your people standing around
Waiting for someone to show you the way
There's nobody there
There's only yourself
So come on, come on, come on

All of your people standing around
Waiting for someone to show you the way
There's nobody there
There's only yourself
So come on, get up and fight
Get up and fight
Come on, fight!