One in a million, Mama
That's good enough for me
And you can't make me stay here anyway
Now that I'm 18

With everything she had in a duffel bag She set out to show the world She was more then just a homecoming queen And daddy's little girl

In a cloud of dust on a Greyhound bus She crossed the Cook County line Slept all the way to Nashville Big dreams running through her mind

She said, "Sure as I'm breathing
I'm gonna be a big star someday"
'Cause she was jumping right into the deep end
On a leap of sweet blind faith

It's about hoping, it's about dreaming
It's about never not believing
It's about taking a walk out on the wire
And never looking down

It's about living instead of dying
It's about spreading your wings and flying
Yeah, yeah, yeah, it's all about trying

It's been six years since she left home And she hasn't made it big yet Oh, but there's no second guessing, baby She's got no regrets

She still works late shift down At the Greasy Spoon Cafe When she brings you out your milkshake You just might hear her say

It's about hoping, it's about dreaming
It's about never not believing
It's about taking a walk out on the wire
And never looking down

It's about living instead of dying
It's about spreading your wings and flying
Yeah, yeah, yeah, it's all about trying

It's not whether you win or lose
It's getting in the game

It's about hoping, it's about dreaming
It's about never not believing
It's about taking a walk out on the wire
And never looking down

It's about living instead of dying

It's about spreading your wings and flying Yeah, yeah, yeah, it's all about trying

It's about hoping, it's about dreaming
It's about never not believing
 (It's all about trying)
It's about taking a walk out on the wire
And never looking down
 (It's all about trying)

It's about hoping, it's about dreaming
It's about never not believing
 (It's all about trying)
It's about taking a walk out on the wire
And never looking down

It's about hoping, it's about dreaming
It's about never not believing
It's about taking a walk out on the wire
And never looking down

It's about hoping, it's about dreaming
It's about never not believing
It's about taking a walk out on the wire
And never looking down
