

Blanket of Fear

Papa Roach

I am awake under this blanket of fear,
And I must say, none of the people
I see belong here
Now everyone's asleep
I am awake and I am dreaming
I believe it's time for a rude awakening

So hold on to your dreams
Because your nightmares might
Seem like they're your reality
Hold on to your dreams
Because your nightmares might
Seem like they're your reality

I believe, the only thing we have to fear is fear itself
And the man behind the curtain,
I heard him say, 'Dreamers have become an endangered species
And I am aware of the rude awakening

So hold on to your dreams
Because your nightmares might
Seem like they're your reality
Hold on to your dreams
Because your nightmares might
Seem like they're your reality

I'm falling in my dream I finally hit the ground
I'm falling in my dream I finally hit the ground
I hit the ground,
Because I, I can't keep my mind
From going into dark places, because I, I can't keep my mind from going into dark places

So hold on to your dreams
Because your nightmares might
Seem like they're your reality
Hold on to your dreams
Because your nightmares might
Seem like they're your reality

I'm falling in my dream I finally hit the ground
I'm falling in my dream I finally hit the ground!
