

Better Life

Paper Route

All this trouble that I know,
Every swing I take and stone I throw.
All the bridges that I've burned,
All the new ways that I hurt.
You gave up and I lost track
When you love someone who don't love back
Don't matter who's at fault
Nothing matters now at all.

I might have said too much.
I might have said too much.
I won't forget your touch,
I'm saying too much.

A better life is waiting
A better life, a better life is waiting.
A better life is waiting
A better life, a better life is waiting.

And what is done is done.
Piece together what's been broken.
Can you ever give up someone?
A better life, a better life.
And what is done is done.
Piece together what's been broken.
Can you ever give up someone?
A better life, A better life is waiting.

All this fire in my veins,
From a heart that's trapped in my rib cage.
Burning through my finger tips,
Burning everything I kiss.
All the memories that you live in,
Just another door that I'm closing
In hall that's infinite,
Better least I can admit it.

I might have said too much.
I might have said too much.
I won't forget your touch,
I'm saying too much.

A better life is waiting
A better life, a better life is waiting.
A better life is waiting
A better life, a better life is waiting.

And what is done is done.
Piece together what's been broken.
Can you ever give up someone?
A better life, a better life.
And what is done is done.
Piece together what's been broken.
Can you ever give up someone?
A better life, A better life is waiting.

Woah, I know. Woah-Woah. I know.

I'm saying too much.

And what is done is done.
Piece together what's been broken.
Can you ever give up someone?
A better life, a better life.
And what is done is done.
Piece together what's been broken.
Can you ever give up someone?

A better life is waiting.
A better life is waiting.
A better life, A better life is waiting.
A better life is waiting.
A better life is waiting.
A better life, A better life is waiting.

Woah, I know. Woah-Woah. I know.
